

Mandalas are an ancient form of art which many believe can inspire thought, healing, enhance creativity and express emotions. The idea of a mandala is to color the design which reflects who you are in that moment and allows you to feel both creative and special.